

Country-Specific

SMS in India:

Some countries prevent replies to short codes (ex. India). Users need to manually reply to a real phone number which needs to be manually included in the SMS message. This makes things like interactive surveys really unfriendly.